

Prominent Christchurch Partner David Goodman Joins Anderson Lloyd's Commercial Team

Former Goodman Tavendale Reid partner David Goodman has joined Anderson Lloyd Lawyers.

Widely recognised as one of the South Island's leading irrigation sector legal experts, David Goodman also advises regularly in relation to mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, insolvencies, corporate restructurings and commercial contracts.

David brings to Anderson Lloyd more than 25 years of expertise in the water, agribusiness, fisheries, technology and health industries.

He is now a partner owner in the Christchurch office of Anderson Lloyd - one of New Zealand's top tier law firms, and the largest in the South Island. The firm also has offices in Dunedin and Queenstown.

For 150 years Anderson Lloyd has been providing high quality, specialist legal guidance to clients nationally, including individuals and companies, large and small.

Anderson Lloyd is involved in some of the most complex and important cases being undertaken, putting the firm at the forefront of important legal issues.
